

Other ways to reduce your risk

- Use DEET or Picaridin based insect repellent
- Ensure window and door screens are intact
- Use mosquito zappers or coils
- Wear long sleeved light coloured clothing.

Your local council is trying to reduce mosquitoes in your area.

But we all have to play our part.

Remember mosquitoes can breed in and around your work place.

MOZZIE HIT-LIST

- Tip it
Tip water from containers & objects
- Store it
Store items away when not in use
- Throw it
Throw away items you do not use

For more information

Contact your Local Council:

Ipswich City Council

PO Box 191
Ipswich Q 4305
T: (07) 3810 6666
F: (07) 3810 6731
E: council@ipswich.qld.gov.au
W: www.ipswich.qld.gov.au

Customer Service Centre
143 Brisbane Street, Ipswich
(Top of Ipswich City Mall)

Or visit:

www.health.qld.gov.au/mozziediseases/default.asp
www.health.qld.gov.au/dengue/default.asp

Version 1 March 2011

Tips for reducing mosquitoes in your area

Mozzies and you in the WORKPLACE

Don't get sucked in!

Take action to help reduce mosquito-borne disease today

6510519

Check for potential breeding sites weekly including:

Reduce your risk of mosquito-borne disease

Some mosquitoes found in and around your workplace can cause diseases such as Ross River Virus, Barmah Forest Virus and possibly Dengue Fever.

These mosquitoes breed in containers or objects that can hold water indoors and outside e.g. indoor pot plants, old tyres and discarded rubbish.

Keep your workplace safe! By simply cleaning up items that can hold water or emptying out containers in and around your workplace weekly, you can help stop mosquitoes from breeding.

Under the Workplace Health and Safety Act employers have a responsibility to provide a safe work environment.

Clean up work areas, dispose of old tyres appropriately

Check for areas of pooled water

Tip out, dry store or throw out containers

MOZZIE HIT-LIST

- Tip it
Tip water from containers & objects
- Store it
Store items away when not in use
- Throw it
Throw away items you do not use

Clean up rubbish in your workplace, remember it only takes a small amount of water to breed mozzies

Dispose of old car bodies properly

Clean drain sumps regularly and ensure water drains freely